

Friday review October 17th

Dinner Cards

We have started the process of issuing dinner cards to pupils. Pupils will be able to load these up with money on a regular basis, for example weekly or fortnightly, and then not have to carry money around with them. We are waiting for crediting machines to be installed before we roll this out to all year groups. Hopefully this will mean quicker service for pupils at break and lunchtime.

Safe bikes

A couple of weeks ago we warned pupils that they need to ensure that their bicycles are safe to come to school with. We see a number of bikes without brakes and this is very dangerous for everyone concerned. Next week PC Jenkins, our attached police officer, will be inspecting bikes and impounding any that are not safe.

Hair cuts / hoodies

Thank you again for your support regarding uniform and haircuts. Most of the pupils look very smart and there have been very few problems this week with haircuts. After half term we expect pupils to be wearing appropriate outdoor coats to and from school, not hoodies or track suit tops.

Friday Review

Some parents have said they do not always receive a copy of the Friday Review. Please remember that it also appears on our website, usually by the end of Monday.

Job advertisements

The Friday Review has been a good means of letting the local community know about job opportunities at Slough and Eton School. We are currently looking for: a driver/site helper, a reprographics / admin officer and a hospitality provider. If interested contact Mrs Johnson at the school. At a later stage we will be looking for someone to manage our lettings for our new hall and restaurant (a great venue for parties or weddings) and our sports hall in the evenings.

Year 11 Mock Exams

We have moved Year 11 mock exams forward a week to ensure that it does not clash with Eid. Exams will now start on Monday December 1st.
